* Reception of a sacrament requires that the child attended religious education classes, parochial school, or completed an Archdiocesan approved Catholic home-schooling program last year, in addition to being enrolled this year. Also, the Archdiocese requires that Sacramental preparation be separate from regular religious education and school programs. Parents of children preparing for First Reconciliation (also called confession or penance) or First Communion have the option of preparing the children at home, using approved materials, or bringing them to the scheduled classes.
